

Abra Suite® Wins Case for Leading Corporate Law Firm

Robinson and Cole, LLP, with offices in Hartford, Boston, and New York City, found themselves with a tough case in 1991. They needed an HR/payroll solution flexible enough to handle all of the information for their 400+ employees. They started with Abra Payroll's original DOS version and then upgraded to Windows in 1998.

Results

Bringing HR/payroll functions in-house saved both time and money

"Abra® was the most logical, and the most economical, choice for us," said Maggie Bowen, HR Administrator.

"It allows our staff to focus on other, more strategic HR functions of the business."

By the following year, the firm added the full Abra Suite, including its HR, Attendance, and Recruiting Solution modules. More importantly, they were finally able to perform HR/payroll functions in-house that had previously been outsourced to another vendor, saving both time and money. Abra Payroll enabled them to produce their payroll runs and quickly and easily transmit them to the bank for direct deposit. The Abra system also produced W2's for their employee database this past month.
